

LEARNING AND DEVELOPMENT

Learning and Development

“I hear and I forget. I see and I remember. I do and I understand.” This famous Chinese proverb underlines Proton’s approach to learning. Our Learning and Development programs are dynamic, interactive, and designed to develop understanding and the skill to practice. All Proton courses have been developed by project and change management professionals, and are delivered by qualified educators with extensive industry experience.

Proton offers Professional Development courses in Project Management, Change Management, Business Analysis, and a range of Specialised Skills courses in related subject areas.

Our Project Management courses are endorsed by the Australian Institute of Project Management in accordance with the national competency framework.

Proton's learning programs incorporate the latest local and international trends in project and change management and provide practical information and tools that can be applied immediately in the participant's day-to-day role.

Proton's Approach

Our "three stage" learning model is designed to enhance participants' professional career development.

Stage one involves identifying current competency levels, skill gaps and learning needs, and development of a structured learning program.

Stage two provides education programs across a range of subjects that can be customised to align with an organisation's specific standards, methodologies and learning requirements.

Stage three provides post-training support to consolidate learning and support application in the current work environment. This includes professional mentoring and coaching support for individuals, and assistance towards achieving project management certification.

Why train with Proton Projects?

Proton Projects is a project and change management organisation with extensive knowledge and experience in managing projects and change in the corporate environment.

Proton offers both private and public courses. Our private program is designed to meet the needs of organisations with groups of between four and twelve participants per course. Private courses can be tailored to include specific organisational standards and terminology and can be scheduled to meet the needs of your organisation. We can also develop customised courses to meet your specific training and learning needs.

Proton can deliver private training programs anywhere in Australia or you can enjoy the relaxed and tranquil training facilities at our Manly campus, only a short jetcat or ferry ride away from the centre of Sydney.

Our public program is open to individuals and small groups and is presented at scheduled times during the year. We offer qualifications that assist in gaining accreditation via the RegPM program with the Australian Institute of Project Management. All public courses are delivered in central locations around Australia.

All Proton courses are led by certified trainers who are also current practitioners in their field. Our Learning and Development team includes Certified Trainers, skilled coaches and mentors, and registered psychologists.

Our Other Services

Proton will work with you to meet all your project and change management needs. In addition to an industry endorsed Learning and Development program, we also offer our clients:

- a full range of project and change management solutions
- access to a highly skilled team of project and change management professionals

Project Solutions

There are times during the lifecycle of a project when a little help may be needed to ensure your project delivers the results expected of it.

Proton Solutions offers a range of proven tools and techniques designed to improve project execution and delivery, and reduce the risks associated with change. Proton's Solutions include:

- Project Assurance
- Project Initiation
- Project Profiling
- Business Impact and Change Management
- Project Tracking and Reporting
- Risk Management
- Project Recovery
- Enterprise Project Support
- Portfolio Management
- Project Lifecycle Management

These services can be delivered quickly to produce specific outcomes at strategic points in a project.

Our services are fully scalable and will suit project and business requirements of any size. Proton's Solutions services are typically undertaken for a fixed price, and are highly automated to allow us to provide these services at very competitive prices.

For more information on Proton Projects Solutions please email solutions@protonprojects.com.au or contact your Relationship Manager.

Project Resourcing

The pressures of project work can be demanding. Proton's project specialists are conditioned to the corporate environment and understand the demands of project work.

We provide highly skilled business and IT professionals to work on projects Australia wide. Proton's transparent pricing model ensures competitive market rates.

Our pool of project professionals encompasses the full range of project skills, including:

- Project Managers
- Business & Process Analysts
- Business Impact & Change Managers
- Test Specialists
- Training Specialists
- Project Office Staff
- Specialised Project Personnel

For more information on Proton Projects Resourcing, please email resourcing@protonprojects.com.au or contact your Relationship Manager.